FAQ

• How is this different to VR?

VR changes the user's whole perception of the world around them and transports them to a virtual world by wearing a headset that covers the user's eyes. Our hologram technology is closer to Augmented Reality. What we mean by this is that a hologram is a life-like 3D projection of an artificial environment, presented in the real world around you.

• I am an international customer. What sort of support will I receive?

The fantastic thing about both our Hologram Arcade Tables and Hologram Entertainment Rooms is that they come with a 2-year warranty on all hardware and software. This is all remotely serviceable by our support team in Australia on a 24/7 basis.

• I am interested in opening a Hologram Arcade Centre. What is the minimum amount of units I would require?

There is no one answer here as every centre is unique and will necessitate its own planning and requirements. However, our Hologram Entertainment Rooms are sold at a minimum of six (6) rooms due to the system requirements. Contact our friendly sales team and they can discuss your individual needs.

• You say you make your own content in-house. How often can we expect new games and experiences?

Our content creation team produce one new game every month. As a minimum, you can expect at least 12 new pieces of content per year to choose from!
